Dear Secretary of State,

CC Department of Business and Trade, Department of Energy Security and Net Zero, Department for Transport, His Majesty's Treasury and Ministry of Housing, Communities and Local Government

As businesses, trade associations, multi-stakeholder partnerships and professional bodies, we strongly support the government's intention to create a more circular economy. We see the value of such approaches in our own operations and support steps to expand reuse, repair and more efficient use of materials.

With the right direction and support, this approach will have huge advantages for the UK: it will increase resilience, boost productivity and support new commercial opportunities across the economy. Importantly, at a time when cost of living pressures are high and growing, it will offer consumers more affordable options.

As such, we are concerned at the ongoing delay to the government's promised Circular Economy Growth Plan and are worried that this will harm momentum towards a more resilient, resource efficient economy. We are keen that the plan is published as soon as possible.

A clear and ambitious signal from the government will give us and other businesses the confidence to invest further, scale up what is already working and accelerate a circular economy transition across our operations.

We look forward to supporting the government in delivering this strategy.

Yours faithfully,

Chris Fry, Managing director, Accelar
